Girl Aboard the Titanic, A: A Survivor's Story Eva Hart, R. Denny

- Memoir by one of the last survivors of the sinking of the Titanic.
- The only memoir about the disaster written by a child survivor.
- Includes a wealth of family photographs and images of the Titanic, some published for the first time.

‘We went on the day on the boat train... I was 7, I had never seen a ship before... it looked very big... everybody was very excited, we went down to the cabin and that's when my mother said to my father that she had made up her mind quite firmly that she would not go to bed in that ship, she would sit up at night... she decided that she wouldn't go to bed at night, and she didn't!’

This is the amazing story of how Eva survived the sinking of the Titanic, how her father perished and the affect it had on her life following the tragedy. The events of a few hours in her childhood remained with her so vividly throughout her life that it took Eva nearly forty years before she could talk openly about the tragedy. A Girl Aboard the Titanic is the only child eyewitness description we have of most famous maritime disaster.
